HIT-RUN DRIVER LEAVES AGED MAN IN ROAD

Patrick Hughes, Langhorne, Struck by Motorist Who Fails to Stop

IS FOUND UNCONSCIOUS

Has Large Wound on Head and Contused Right Shoulder

SOUTH LANGHORNE, Nov. 19.—Striking an aged man on the Lincoln Highway here, last evening, an autoist left the 75-year old victim lying upon the thoroughfare, unconscious from a severe head wound.

The injured one is Patrick Hughes, Langhorne.

It is believed the accident occurred at about seven o'clock, and that the man lay along the roadway for a time. He was found in an unconscious condition by Mrs. Gertrude Ferguson, who resides nearby. The man was rushed to the Harriman Hospital, here, by members of the State Highway Patrol.

At the hospital it was found he had a large wound on the head, extending for six or seven inches, this requiring about 17 stitches. Mr. Hughes' right shoulder is also contused and bruised.

When questioned about the affair, Hughes stated he remembered nothing after he saw two machines approaching as he was walking along the highway near the Orange Inn. The cars were travelling in opposite directions, and he doesn't remember just what happened after that. He regained consciousness shortly after being found by Mrs. Ferguson.

Mr. Hughes is still a patient at the local hospital.

Entertains in Honor of Her Tenth Birthday

Anna Keers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Keers, of 1528 Trenton avenue, celebrated her tenth birthday anniversary on Monday evening by entertaining a number of friends at her home, from seven to ten o'clock.

A very enjoyable evening was spent playing various games and prizes were given for a few of the games. For the candy hunt, Janet Afterbach, Junior Moore and Harry Hinman were the lucky ones. The girls and boys were asked to do stunts and a prize given for the best stunt. Florence MacBlaine and Harry Hinman were chosen as the best. Music and dancing were enjoyed and music was furnished by the radio. At a late hour, refreshments were served.

The living and dining rooms were beautifully decorated with blue and green crepe paper, which gracefully hung from the corners to the center of each room. A bouquet of mixed flowers formed the centerpiece on the table and a large birthday cake with ten candles was also displayed on the table. The favors were yellow and blue snappers.

Those present: Eleanor Dyer, Jane and Betty Lynch, Doris Barr, Janet and Lois Afterbach, Leora Wood, Laura Bell, Mary Campbell, Florence MacBlaine, Alberta Brown, Evelyn Force, Amelia Leiper, Violet, Lillian, Ethel and Anna Keers.

CROYDON

Mrs. Charles Schweiker and son spent Thursday at her sister's home in Tacony. On Saturday Mr. and Mrs. C. Schweiker and son were dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Taylor, of Frankford.

STATE NEWS OF GENERAL INTEREST

SCRANTON, Nov. 19.—(INS)—Five petrified bodies were dug up in Shadyside Cemetery, at Jermyn near here, when workmen began the task of removing 1,500 bodies to another graveyard to make way for mining operations at the site of the Shadyside location.

Coffins had rotted away from the bodies and all had turned to stone. Cemetery officials attributed the condition to the character of one section of the cemetery, where the ground was wet almost the year round.

Five hundred bodies have been transferred from the cemetery to date.

YORK, Nov. 19.—(INS)—Reopening of the local plant of the Martin-Perry corporation within a week or ten days will give employment to several hundred workers, officials of the firm announced here, and the announcement did much to brush away depression caused by increase of the unemployed.

The plant, closed for several months, will manufacture windshields, drawn metal and moulding.

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Nov. 19.—(INS)—A census of all children in Hagerstown and Washington county will be made by school authorities, it was announced here by Superintendent

Travel Club Program To Be Interesting One

The Travel Club will meet at the club home on Friday at 3 o'clock, promptly. The hostesses of the afternoon will be Mrs. David O. Taylor and Mrs. Walter Fagan.

At this meeting the library committee will be prepared to distribute the books to members of the book club. The ways and means committee reminds each member of the food sale to be conducted at the close of the program.

Mrs. Russell Ellis will present a novel and delightful program. Mrs. Horace Burton will relate the story of Canadian wilds. "A Thrilling Experience in Thirty-Six Hours" is the theme for Mrs. Richard French. "An Interesting Meeting I've Attended" will be Mrs. George Hoswell's topic. Mrs. Owens will tell of meeting with Will Hays, the movie censor.

The music will be cared for by Mrs. Marburg Weagley.

HERE AND THERE IN BUCKS COUNTY TOWNS

Bedminsterville Folks to Protect Village Against Another Big Fire

OTHER COUNTY NEWS

At a mass meeting attended by practically all of its 100 citizens the community of Bedminsterville yesterday vowed they will protect themselves against fire so that the village will never again pass through a reign of terror similar to the one ten days ago when fire threatened to destroy the entire village and resulted in the death of one fireman and injury to seven others.

Bedminsterville, a small hamlet, midway between Doylestown and Perkasie has taken action to secure an ample water supply for the town, an absence of which ten days ago resulted in a loss of property valued at $100,000. A community reservoir will be provided and paid for by citizens of the village and farmers in the surrounding territory.

Two women were injured, one seriously, yesterday when an automobile in which they were riding was struck by another machine on the River Road at Yardley.

Mrs. Emma McCleod, 80 years old, of 484 Riverside avenue, Trenton, was seriously hurt. She is suffering from a broken right arm, severe lacerations of the face and from shock. Her daughter, Mrs. Hugh Hilson, of the same address, who was driving the car, sustained minor injuries and suffered from shock.

Mrs. Hilson was about to cross Letchworth avenue when a car driven by Harry Clark, of Yardley, crashed into her machine and wrecked it. Clark was arrested by Officer South, of the Yardley police and will be arraigned later before Justice of the Peace Davis, of Yardley, on a charge of reckless driving. Mrs. McCleod was given first aid treatment by a Yardley physician before being removed to her home.

King Turkey is perched on his ephemeral throne, having taken possession of Perkasie, the first North Penn town to give way to his advances of Thanksgiving, this morning.

Two thousand of the holiday birds arrived in Perkasie, brought from the South by Scheetz and Gulick, who will hold a public sale on Thursday morning, when the price of turkey in this part of the state will be decided upon.

In addition to the 2,000 turkeys, 1,000 chickens and 1,000 ducks also arrived in the three carloads of (Continued on Page 4)

MORRISVILLE COUNCIL AND PROPERTY OWNERS AT ODDS OVER IMPROVEMENTS' COSTS IN THE VICINITY OF SCHOOL

Misrepresentation and Excessive Assessments on Street Job is Charged—Residents Protest and Join With School Board in Attack Over Improvement Work

MORRISVILLE, Nov. 19.—Charging misrepresentation and excessive assessments for street and curb repairs and drainage, residents of Morrisville joined with a delegation of members of the Morrisville Board of Education in launching a vigorous attack against the Morrisville Borough Common Council, at the latter body's monthly meeting last night.

Accusations were hurled back and forth as William S. Lair, vice-president of the Board of Education, and Dr. George Enion, another member of the board, appeared before the councilmen and demanded an explanation for a bill of $1,331.72, when only $800 was originally estimated as the school board's cost for grade and cinder improvements on West Hendrickson and Lafayette avenues, including frontage work on the Capitol View primary school.

Declaring that the school board is drainage work done in connection with not responsible financially for the street improvements as the school board members only petitioned for the actual grading and cinder work, Dr. Enion charged the councilmen with attempting to expend school tax funds on road repair work at a time when the borough's most desperate need is for school improvements.

Z. Z. Young, a member of the common council, pointed out that the drainage work was necessary in order to make the street improvements, although such a complication was not expected when the school board members agreed to join with residents of Hendrickson and Lafayette avenues in signing the petition for the improvements. "You agreed to pay your share of the improvements and we went ahead and had the improvements made," declared Mr. Young. Dr. Enion stated that the installation of a French drain, instead of helping the school, was actually creating a menace and that the school board should not be held liable for payment.

Mr. Lair asked that, in view of the fact that the borough was enjoying virtually all of the benefit from the improvements and the school little or none, that the council assume some of the obligation and pay part of the bill. The councilmen pointed out, however, that the law would not permit such procedure, revealing that West Hendrickson street was not borough property before the improvement was made and that the borough is not allowed to pay for improvements to streets it does not own.

"Had the school board been aware of that, we would never have signed the petition," declared Dr. Enion.

After more than two hours of heated discussion, during which it was disclosed that the school board's debt for drainage only amounted to $92 and the remainder for the actual street improvement, the councilmen ruled that the school board should be held responsible for the full amount and must pay. It further held that, in signing the petition, it waived its right for State improvement and held itself responsible, financially, for the work fronting on the school property.

Miss Inez Walker, of North Pennsylvania avenue, who joined with several other residents of that thoroughfare and Trenton avenue in protesting excessive assessments on repair work authorized by the borough, declared that misrepresentation was used in getting signatures for a petition for the work. Waving the bill she received in the air, Miss Walker charged she had been inveigled into signing a petition (Continued on Page 2)

YOUNG PEOPLE RALLY IN M. E. CHURCH HERE

Interesting and Inspiring Talk
Given by Miss Iona
Sikes

CHURCH PROGRESSING

The Young People's Rally of the Fifth District of the Bucks County Sabbath School Association held last evening in the Methodist Episcopal Church, was one of the largest attended and most inspiring and helpful rallies held in this vicinity for some time.

The meeting was in charge of William E. Gentry, president. The rally was opened with the Grove Ensemble, of Morrisville, rendering two selections. The congregation sang: "Onward, Christian Soldiers"; Rev. S. B. Knowlton, pastor of the Bristol Presbyterian Church led in prayer, and Rev. George F. Hess, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church read the Scripture lesson.

The address of the evening was given by Miss Iona Sikes, representing the Young People's Department of the Pennsylvania Sabbath School Association. Miss Sikes spoke briefly on the need of and benefit derived from Young People's District Councils, and then gave a very informing and inspiring address on "Young People's Work in the local Sunday School."

Speaking on the need of preparation for the worship period, Miss Sikes said: "If we would come to the public schools with as little preparation as some teachers go to Sunday School, we would lose our jobs in less than twenty-four hours." Continuing, she said: "We need worship that will take us out of ourselves, make us forget our surroundings and take us into the very presence of God."

The speaker referring to improper music in the Sunday School exclaimed: "Young people are not interested in 'When we all get to heaven, what a day of rejoicing that will be,' but are vitally interested in hymns that meet the spiritual need of this day and generation. We have no right to be pessimistic, for the church is going forth as progressively and as successfully as anything could go forward," were the closing words of the address.

A very interesting question and answer period followed in charge of Mr. Gentry.

The congregation sang: "True Hearted, Whole Hearted" as the closing hymn, and the benediction was pronounced by Rev. W. S. Vorhies, pastor of the Edgington Presbyterian Church.

During the rally the choir of the Methodist Episcopal Church sang "Gloria from the Twelfth Mass," and "The Lord Hath Done Great Things."

Children Will Participate In A Program at Edgely

The Parent Teacher Association of Edgely will hold its regular monthly meeting in the school, Thursday evening, at 8 o'clock.

A program with the pupils participating has been arranged, following which there will be a discussion about diphtheria and its prevention by the use of toxin anti-toxin. Everyone is cordially invited to attend this meeting.

John R. Davis Dies At Harriman Hospital, Aged 72

Death today claimed John R. Davis, of 2937 Aramingo avenue, Philadelphia, at the Harriman Hospital, here. The deceased, 72 years of age, is survived by his wife; a brother, Albert Davis, of Jacksonville, Florida; and a daughter, Mrs. William E. DeGroot, of 341 Jefferson avenue, this borough.

The late Mr. Davis had been ill for two weeks, and one week ago was taken from his Philadelphia home to the hospital here.

Funeral will be conducted Saturday at the DeGroot residence, here, with Rev. George E. Boswell, rector of St. James's Episcopal Church, officiating. Burial will be made in Fernwood Cemetery.

EDGELY GUILD EXCEEDS RECORDS OF PAST YEARS

Total Number of Garments Collected Greater Than Ever Before

INTERESTING SESSION

EDGELY, Nov. 19.—With a mounting total of garments each year, the Edgely Branch of the Needlework Guild was able to report 1275 pieces at the fourth annual exhibit at the residence of Mrs. Thomas G. Hawkes, here, yesterday afternoon. The number of garments this year is more than 500 greater than the first year, 1927. The number reported at the 1927 exhibit was 748; 1928, 1141; 1929, 1207.

Yesterday's session was a most interesting one, and was presided over by Mrs. William K. Highland, president.

The first speaker of the day, introduced by the presiding officer, was Sister Katherine, of the Home of St. Michael and All Angels, Philadelphia, where colored crippled children are cared for.

The home about which Sister Katherine told so much is the only institution of its kind for crippled children of the colored race in the United States. "Very frequently," said the speaker, "we are enabled to prevent life-long disability, and then we feel that great good is being done, as we try to fit every child to earn its own living."

The women present were told of three boys who have no arms, but who, with the other boys of the institution, are learning to play harmonicas, having the instruments strapped in place about their necks. "Thus far we have been able to provide means of living for all children as they become older and leave the home."

Referring to the splendid gifts of new clothing from the Needlework Guild, Sister Katherine remarked that "It doesn't take long to divide up the things in the Needlework Guild bag when it arrives. The clothing is so welcome."

Brigadier General Jennie Ward, of the Salvation Army Settlement House and Day Nursery, Philadelphia, also brought messages of the work at the place where she is located and carrying on such a noble work. She informed the Guild workers of the manner in which the folks are cared for at the settlement house, and mentioned the large number of children attending the Sunday School sessions in the chapel. She likewise expressed pleasure in the gifts received from the

HOTEL OWNERS ARE WARNED BY JUDGE NOT TO SELL LIQUOR

Prison Sentences and Fines
Are Promised If Caught

HENDRICKS SENTENCED

No Sympathy to Be Shown,
Judge Tells Them

DOYLESTOWN, Nov. 19.—Prison sentence and a fine were promised to hotel owners in Bucks county who are caught violating the liquor laws by selling beer or liquor in the future, according to a statement by Judge Calvin S. Boyer in court yesterday when Frank Hendricks, owner and proprietor of the East Rockhill Township Hotel pleaded guilty to possessing intoxicating liquor for beverage purposes.

Corporal William Francis, of the local sub-station of State Police, raided the hotel last Monday. Yesterday Hendricks pleaded guilty. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $500 and costs and serve 30 days in the Bucks County Prison. The police seized one barrel of beer on tap in the bar room of the hotel and six others under the bay in the barn back of the hotel.

"We have no sympathy for a defendant in a case like this," Judge Boyer remarked. "You have been violating the law for a number of months according to your own testimony. You have been getting beer at the hotel and have been selling it. Your violation has been intentional."

"I venture to say 90 per cent, at least, of all the hotels in the country districts, away from towns or cities, violate the law. There is no use for the country hotels that are used simply as speak-easies, and it is our intention to break this practice. A man cannot exist in a country hotel these days by selling clams and oysters and still make a living for his family."

What he does, is violate the law by selling beer or whiskey and there is no difference in the eyes of the law. No matter how high the standing of the man may be in the community—he may be a church member for that matter—the court has no sympathy for the violator of the law. We are going to break up the speak-easies. We hope this sentence will serve as an example to other hotel-keepers in Bucks county. If they get into Court they will get the same sentence."

Under examination, Hendricks, in answer to a question asked by Judge Boyer, denied that he had sold beer "in emergency" to the Blooming Glen Hotel. This hotel is operated by Wasy Sitaraki, who was seated in the back row of the court room. Hendricks denied emphatically that he ever sold beer to the Blooming Glen Hotel or that he supplied beer to any other hotel in upper Bucks county.

Prominent residents of East Rockhill township testified in behalf of Hendricks, who told the court that he had been selling beer for several months; that he did it to get money to support his family.

Harry L. Knowles, tax collector of the township, testified that he never heard that beer was sold at the hotel.

John Young, a member of the School Board, said he had lived in the township for 57 years, and that he knew that Hendricks' reputation as a law-abiding citizen, "was good" and that the hotel is a clean and properly conducted place. He told the Court that (Continued on Page 2)

AMERICA RULES A MONARCHY; NAVY CAPTAIN HAS ALL POWERS

By William S. Neal

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—The most absolute monarchy in the world flourishes under the auspices of the United States of America.

It is a benevolent government, so successful that many of the "subjects" prefer it to a representative rule.

The monarchy is American Samoa, a group of islands lying in the mid-Pacific some 2,000 miles below Hawaii and within a few degrees of the equator.

The government of Samoa is unique. Its 10,000 people, governed by the United States, are still not a part of it. Its ruler is usually a U. S. Navy captain, and he has the power of life and death.

All this will be changed, if a congressional commission, headed by Sen. Bingham (R) of Connecticut, has its way. The commission visited Samoa during the autumn, and is recommending that Congress set up a representative form of government.

The commissioners found much to praise in the unique method of ruling people under the American flag.

The Navy captain is governor of the islands. His "term of office," by navy orders, is 18 months. He can make a law in the morning and send a native to jail in the afternoon for violating it, although the native never heard of the law. His command even is law.

This despotism nevertheless has been benevolent, say the commissioners. In 30 years of this kind of rule, they say, but one navy captain has given an unsatisfactory administration.

But the younger element of Samoa, having heard of the spread of democracy, want a hand in their own affairs. Some of the older chiefs are willing for the present regime to continue.

Samoaans are Polynesians. They were, say Sen. Bingham, originally Caucasian and came into the Pacific through Mongolia, where the racial strain was changed. They are, according to Bingham, high-spirited, high class people, with many able chiefs.

Their life is communal, with the family or clan as the unit. The family, or clan, chooses a representative to sit on the chief's advisory council. There is the "Fono," or native legislative body. But it is merely advisory to the monarchical navy captain.

The Navy has adopted a policy of keeping Samoaans for the natives. It does not permit those with white blood to own land. It freely exiles unwelcome visitors.

EDUCATION COMES HIGH

Years ago Mr. John Smith, taxpayer, and Mary Smith, his wife, came to the conclusion that little Johnnie and sister Susie must be educated, if it takes the last cent. Educational experts have taken the Smiths at their word. Little Johnnie and sister Susie are being educated, and the process bids fair to take the last cent.

In 1900 Mr. and Mrs. Smith spent $214,965,000 for the education of the little Johnnies and sister Susies all over the country. In 1924 Mr. and Mrs. Smith paid out $1,620,743,000 for that year's education of their progeny. Thus Mr. and Mrs. Smith, the taxpayers, spent 747 per cent more in 1924 than in 1900 for one year's education for little Johnnie and sister Susie.

As the population of the nation has increased only 50 per cent in the same quarter century the per capita cost of educating all the little Johnnies and Susies has been increased by 474 per cent in that period.

This inordinate increase is explained by improved equipment, higher teaching salaries, "a seat for every pupil," better teaching methods and all such desirable things. Educational experts say the public schools are more than seven times better than they were in 1900.

Why cannot a way be found to prove that the little Johnnies and Susies of today are getting an education seven times better than that given to the little Johnnies and Susies of a quarter century ago? Some such solace is due those paying the ever increasing school taxes.

MYSTERY

British capitalists are making overtures to the French government for the purchase of the island of Ste. Marguerite, at the mouth of Cannes Bay, where the "Man in the Iron Mask," made famous by Dumas, was imprisoned for ten years.

The capitalists would convert the historic and romantic island into a winter resort, but thus far their proposals have only provoked a storm of protest from French newspapers, patriots and sentimentalists. To the French the island is no less sacred ground than Valley Forge is to Americans.

Apparently the purchase offer will serve no other purpose than to revive international interest in that mysterious character of history and fiction, "The Man in the Iron Mask."

While it is definitely established that he was incarcerated in the island fortress from 1687 to 1697 and appeared every day upon the fortress walls with his face concealed behind a black mask, history still disputes his identity. Whether king, prince, traitor or rival in love he died or was murdered without disclosing his identity to the world.

Though Dumas in his immortal romance made the mask of iron it was in reality of black velvet and instead of being locked on it was worn only when the famous prisoner left his cell for recreation.

he did hear that beer had been sold here.

John Moll, a neighbor of Hendricks, told Judge Boyer that he had heard that beer had been sold there but that he did not know what kind of beer it was.

Clayton Sheldon, a former road master, testified that he never saw a drunken person in the hotel.

Edward Trauch, of Weisel, assessor of East Rockhill township, testified that he spent considerable time in the hotel in his official capacity, and that he knew Hendricks as a very reputable man and that he never heard his reputation or hotel questioned.

with "unadulterated lies." "But this is one case where lies won't work," she said, adding that she refused to pay her bill.

Miss Walker, along with other protesting residents, charged that she was informed by Harry Leedom, engaged by the borough as engineer on curb and gutter work and drainage laying on Pennsylvania avenue and Trenton avenue, that she would only be responsible for one-half the cost of the work, and that henceforth the bill she received was excessive. The councilmen informed her, however, that the agreement stipulated that she was to pay half the cost in the installation of the French drain, but the entire cost for the curb and gutter work.

Others who protested included Miss Rachael Carver, of Pennsylvania and Trenton avenues, who said the work was done while she was traveling in Europe and that the workman had ruined a good driveway. Joshua Tomlinson, of East Trenton avenue, joined with Irving Rousecrane, also of East Trenton avenue, in complaining about Needwork Guild's and asked that the bags contain garments for the older boys and girls as well as the little ones.

Mrs. Henry E. Ancker, president of the Bristol Guild which is considered the "mother" of the Edgely organization, brought greetings, and congratulated the Edgely members upon the quantity, quality and beauty of the articles on display. "Summing up the whole thing in the Needwork Guild, it is love for humanity," said the Bristol woman.

Arrayed on long tables on the spacious porch of the Hawkes home were hats, caps, baby clothing, dresses, night-clothes, towels, washcloths, underclothing, trousers, etc. The largest number of garments turned in by one individual was given as 165, these being brought in through the efforts of Mrs. George Garretson.

During the past year sufficient sum of money has been raised to purchase an electric sewing machine, and the needed amount of material. Card parties brought in finances from time to time; and members gathered each week at the Hawkes home to sew. Yesterday's exhibit was much enjoyed by a goodly number of Bristol and Edgely residents. Refreshments were served.

couple, one evening last week, given by the Newportville sewing circle members.

The large number of gifts presented to the surprised ones were placed in a large clothes basket, and taken by the group which met in the Newportville Church to the Everitt home, where the couple resides. The two were much pleased with the large number of splendid gifts.

Then the group returned to the church, taking the Dixons and the Everitts with them, marching into the edifice to the strains of a wedding march, played by one of the guests. There the surprised ones and those tendering the party glimpsed a table decorated with candles and flowers, with drapings of white crepe paper forming a large wedding bell. A wedding cake, made by some of the local folks, also graced the center of the table. The luncheon was in the form of a covered dish affair.

Burnsley White, the minister, entertained the group with witty accounts of experiences in married life.

Those attending were: Mrs. C. H. Mathews, Miss Caroline Black, Mrs. Helen Birkey, Mrs. James Lee, Mrs. William Grimwood, Mrs. Alfred Wright, Mrs. Fred Wimmersberger, Mrs. William Cameron, Miss Lillian Cameron, Mrs. George Erny, Mrs. Ruth Erny, George Erny, Jr., Misses Edna Ingraham, Dorothy Ingraham, Ruth Ingraham, Florence Ingraham, William Enoch, Adolph Pilkinton, Miss Mildred Colville, Mrs. Horace Fleckenstein, Mr. and Mrs. Burnsley White, Mrs. William Clifton, Kenneth Clifton, Mrs. Robert Lewis, Norwood Lewis, Miss Grace Lewis, Mrs. William Beck, Mrs. Joseph Wilson, Mrs. Paul VanderLou, Mrs. Samuel Flood, Mr. and Mrs. J. They Overlooked the Diamonds

THERE is a modern flippancy to the effect that "What you don't know won't hurt you." It is also a fallacy. For instance:

The farmers of Kimberley were a disgusted, disheartened lot. They said the soil was too rocky to earn them a living. Some of them left. Others died in poverty.

And all the time their children were playing with diamonds.

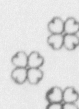

But the farmers didn't know. They thought the priceless gems were pebbles.

Don't be like those Kimberley farmers. Know!

Don't seek opportunity in some distant place and overlook the diamonds that are daily within your grasp. Know!

Advertising is a mine of opportunity. It tells of values you wouldn't know about if it were not there to guide you.

The secret of economical buying is information. The man or woman who is best informed is the one who buys to best advantage.

Club Members Entertained At The Ruehl Residence

Mrs. Robert Ruehl, of Cedar street, entertained the present and former members of the Friday evening card club, at her home on Saturday evening, in honor of one of the club members, Miss Mary King.

The guests were invited for six o'clock supper and covers were laid for sixteen. This affair was a miscellaneous shower for Miss King, and the center of the dining-room table was attractive with a large paper umbrella in the colors of green, lavender, yellow and pink, and tiny colored umbrellas attached to each rib.

After supper, the guests were invited to the second floor of the Ruehl home, and Miss King was given a small wheelbarrow and was asked to seek a number of packages which had been wrapped to represent rocks. When Miss King had completed her search, she was placed on a throne which had been especially built and decorated for the occasion. She was then crowned Queen and requested to open her packages containing kitchen utensils, towels, handkerchiefs, etc. Following this, while Miss King was still sitting on the throne, a large barrel, trimmed in white crepe paper, containing more packages, was placed before her. After she had opened each one and the beautiful gifts had been viewed by the guests, Miss King left her throne and proceeded downstairs with the guests. The remainder of the evening was spent playing bridge. Favors were given to Mrs. Samuel Pearson, Miss Elizabeth Rue and Mrs. Charles Parker.

Those enjoying this delightful affair were: Misses Mary King, Elizabeth Rue, Alice Lippincott, Anna Foster, Mrs. V. V. Vansant, Mrs. Samuel Pearson, Mrs. Roy Tracy, Mrs. H. L. Danfield, Mrs. William Lefferts, Mrs. William H. H. Fine, Mrs. Robert Pearson, Mrs. Charles Parker, Mrs. Minnie Bevan, Mrs. Robert Ruehl, of Bristol; Miss Elizabeth Chambers and Miss Edna Emmons, of Trenton.

S. S. CLASS MEETS

Sunday School Class No. 11 of the Methodist Episcopal Church, taught by Mrs. George W. Miller, held its regular business meeting at the home of Mrs. Harold Hunter, Harrison street. During the routine of business, plans for the annual Christmas party were discussed. Following the meeting, a sour krout supper was served by Mrs. Hunter.

Large Crowd Attends Card Party in K. of C. Home

The card party held last evening in the K. of C. Home, and sponsored by the Catholic Daughters of America, Bristol Court, proved most gratifying to the members of the committee in charge, who had been so zealous in their efforts to make this affair one of the outstanding ones of the season. The co-operation and response accorded these ladies by the public was highly appreciated.

The prizes on display for the selection of the successful contestants called forth much favorable comment as to their beauty and usefulness and were eagerly competed for.

There were ten tables of "500" players grouped in one of the large rooms of the Home, while eight tables of pinochle players occupied another. Many non-players also attended, thus showing their interest in the cause.

The successful "500" players and their scores were: Mrs. Marguerite Green, 4200; Miss Frances McFadden, 4120; Miss Cecilia Kelly, 4090; Mrs. Rodgers, 3950; Mrs. J. Wollard, 3940; Miss Esther Boyle, 3810; Mrs. Joseph H. Foster, 3700; Miss Angeline Riley, 3660; Miss Catherine M. Dukan, 3610; Miss Elizabeth Brennan, 3320; Mrs. E. Ratcliffe, 3310; Mrs. Regina Lawler, 3270; Miss Marie Roche, 3260; Mrs. K. E. Peters, 3240; Miss Marie E. Gaffney, 3200; Mrs. James McIlvaine, 3110; Mrs. Stacy Cullen, 2940; Miss Mary A. McFadden, 2930; Mrs. Genevieve M. Armstrong, 2910; Miss M. M. Dougherty, 2900; Mrs. J. S. David, 2880; Mrs. Anna Burke, 2850.

In the game of pinochle those who received favors in compensation for high scores were: Carl F. Winch, 811; William C. Spangler, 773; Miss Margaret Roarty, 744; Mrs. P. McGee, 739; John Rodgers, 733; Miss Julia McFadden, 720; M. Shields, 714; J. V. O'Donnell, 708; F. J. Craven, 708; Miss Anita Lynn, 703; Mrs. J. Cullen, 698; Walter Woolman, 695; Miss Mary McGee, 694; Miss Agnes Weiss, 685.

At the conclusion of the game, sandwiches, cake and coffee were served and a general social time enjoyed. The proceeds from this party and of the one to be given next month by this association of women will be used to fill the baskets which will be distributed among the needy at Christmas time, which is an annual and commendable custom of this association of women.

RESOLUTION

In pursuance with a motion adopted at a regular meeting of Craftsmen's Club, Andalusia, on September 10th, the following resolutions were drafted: Whereas, It has pleased Almighty God, in His wisdom, to remove from our midst our Brother, George Sipier; therefore, be it

Resolved, That while bowing to the will of Almighty God in thus removing our beloved Brother, we deeply deplore his loss, and join our sorrow with his family and friends in their bereavement.

Thanksgiving meal, and are now penned up and waiting their day to go under the auctioneer's hammer—preparatory to going under the thanksgiver's axe.

Hatfield, known for years as turkey-town, will come second this year, when Milton Benner, the Hatfield turkey-king, will get his shipment tomorrow, and will sell on Friday.

As was the case last year, Benner will not sell at public auction, but will retail the birds privately at set figures.

Nothing definite can be said by the turkey dealers as to the prices, but it is regarded as a certainty that the birds will be slightly less precious this year than last, in consideration of the general decline in prices.

America Rules A Monarchy; Navy Captain Has All Powers

As a result of this careful shepherding, the commissioners found, American Samoa escaped the 'flu' epidemic during the world war without a single case. It is one of the few countries in the world that can make this boast. In British Samoa, nearby, several thousand died from influenza.

The American commissioners found an unusual custom in Samoa. No food may be left at a chief's dinner. Frequently the food placed before an individual consists of a whole chicken, a whole pigeon, a whole fish and vegetables or similar dishes. Sometimes a pig is added. Unable to eat all the food the guests, have retainers stand behind them with baskets. And the uneaten food goes into the baskets—to be eaten at home.

Big kernels in small shells

IN ADDITION to the advertisements of the big department stores, of the grocery and hardware stores, of the millinery, clothing and shoe stores, there is another kind of advertising that is being read more and more by readers of this newspaper. That kind of advertising is the Classified Columns.

A man or woman wants a job. They read the "Help Wanted" columns and probably insert an advertisement of their own under "Positions Wanted." Employer and job seeker soon get together to the benefit of both. A man may want an automobile—possibly he cannot afford a new car, so he looks in the "Used Car" columns and finds just the car at the price he can afford to pay. Someone has lost a pocketbook, valuable papers or even a pet dog. The "Lost and Found" columns soon bring loser and finder together.

The Classified Columns are so arranged that anyone can readily find what he seeks quickly—business news, machinery and tools, household goods, horses, dogs, cats, canaries, etc. They enable you to locate what you are looking for in short order. So in reading advertising do not overlook the classified columns—the individual advertisements do not take up much room, but like the meaty nut they may contain a big kernel in a small shell—just for you.

Read the advertisements for
